Address: Guelph St, Norval, ON L0P 1K0

This year, Willow Park Ecology Centre offers full-day, week-long camps from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, providing a comprehensive experience for ages 4-11 yrs. Additionally, we now offer half-day options, both in the morning from 9:00 am to 1:00 pm and in the afternoon from 1:00 pm to 5:00 pm, providing flexible scheduling options for parents. For those in need of extended hours, we also offer extended care services for an additional charge.

We are committed to making life-changing experiences via guided-nature discovery to foster curiosity about how our life-sustaining planet really works. Kids learn about, experience and care for local nature (plants, animals, ecology) while, having fun making friends and engaging in arts & crafts, nature hikes, habitat exploration, gardening, music and literacy activities. A wonderfully unique chance to spend days outdoors actively learning and having fun. The program flows with daily themes and varied activities weekly for true enrichment, and opportunity to attend a few weeks.

- Mon: Kid's Birding and Bathing in Forest Ecology
- Tues: Let's Care for Our Planet (Sustainability)
- Wed: Renewable Energy and Water (Norval History)
- Thu: Pond & Meadow Critters are Fun
- Fri: Discover our "Biodiversity Hotspot" (Ravine Ecology)

BEANS

June 29 at 7:30 p.m.

92 minutes, Drama

Writer-director Tracey Deer's debut feature, set in the summer of 1990, tells the story of a 12-year-old Mohawk girl named Beans. Caught between youth and adulthood, between Indigenous identity and white settler culture, Beans skillfully navigates the nuances of this friction to deliver a compelling, important message on self-identity in a broad societal context. Beans is a powerful coming-of-age drama from behind the protest lines. Referred to in the media as the "Oka Crisis," the three-month standoff captured the attention of the entire country as communities protested the expansion of a golf course into a forest and burial ground.
